Jail Delivery.

Deadwood, D. T., Aug. 24.—Shortly before noon to-day, as Jailer Manning unlocked the door of the main cell of the city jail, the prisoners, acting on a preconcerted plan, made a dash for liberty The jailer was knocked down and the prisoners all succeeded in getting outside of the jail yard before the alarm was given. Under sheriff [illegible] and deputies, assisted by a large number of citizens, were quickly on hand and [illegible] in hot pursuit of the jail birds, who had taken to the mountains The chase [illegible] managed that in less than an hour all the prisoners excepting one were recaptured. Several shots were fired, but no one was injured. The prisoners recaptured were White and Kiser, horse thieves, Date and Morris, cattle thieves. Bell, the alleged murderer of Charles Lee, did not attempt to escape.

The Labor Question.

New York, Aug. 24.—J. J. Henchman of Brooklyn, gave his views to the labor congressional committee to-day. He did not think the depression of business was so great as reported, and he believed that the government should not interfere by legislation

F. B. Thurber, merchant of this city testified that he believed the primary causes of the ills of which both laboring and other classes are complaining are the development of steam and electricity, which in connection with labor saving machinery, have within comparatively few years, revolutionized production and commerce, altered our manners and systems of life, and now absorb the attention of the statesman of the day in the adjustment of the organic law to meet the changed condition of the age in which we live An overstocked market means a commercial crisis with all its attendant phenomena with declining prices, idle manufactories and distress among operatives. The only remedy for this is to wait until consumption catches up with production again.

Made a Bishop

Richmond, Aug. 25—Rev John K. Keene of Washington, was consecrated to day bishop of the diocese of Richmond and vicar apostolic of North Carolina The congregation in St. Peter's cathedral was large several bishops and many priests being present The music was grand and ceremonies impressive Bishop Gibbons, of Baltimore, was consecrator, assisted by Bishops Foley, of Chicago, and Kaine, of Wheeling. Mosby's Appointment.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—The Journal's Washington special says. Among the indorsers of Colonel Mosby for a position as assistant attorney general were E W Stoughton, Simon Cameron, and several Union officers who had been prisoners during the war The General Stoughton whom Mosby captured in bed at Fairfax Court-House, Va, was a nephew of E. W. Stoughton, and the Stoughton family have always been very friendly toward Mosby on account of his courteous treatment of his prisoner. The president, for satisfactory reasons, concluded to make no change in the assistant attorney generals, of whom there are four, two in the department of justice, one assigned to service in the postoffice department, and one to the department of the interior. It was then determined to offer Col. Mosby an appointment under the department of state, as has been done

Alcee Gauthreaux of New Orleans, who had charge of the registration bureau in 187[illegible] testified that his bureau ascertained that the number of fraudulent registrations in New Orleans amounted to 18 000, and affidavits had been made against 9,400 Witness said that many of the Republican supervisors of elections and registers were non residents, fugitives from justice, and in several cases were under indictment He said he had a conversation with Judge Dibble who made the remark that he and Burke were foolish to work for the Democracy for if they had a majority of 20 000 they would be counted out by the returning board Witness referred to the sewing machine circular by which he said Republicans made their registration lists and said that when Maj Burke and himself protested to the board against this fraud they were laughed at He then gave the names of a large number of those who manipulated the late election, all of whom now hold federal offices including J Madison Wells and Thos C Anderson Witness admitted he belonged to the organization known as the White League had turned out with them and borne arms The object of the league was to protect themselves against the machinations of men who wanted to encroach upon their rights as citizens to take their property from them The organization was still in existence and numbered from seven hundred to a thousand men.

Richard B Edgeworth captain of police at New Orleans and supervisor of election handed in the following among other letters

HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN PARTY, LOUISIANA, NEW ORLEANS Sept 25 1876

The Sherman-Anderson Letter.

New York, Aug 24—The Times says: The Sherman Anderson letter a document which it was said was given by Secretary Sherman to the witness Anderson, of Louisiana, has been found and is now either in the hands or under the control of the Potter committee Its whereabouts has been known for some time Butler has mentioned the fact of its discovery to various persons lately and has conversed with them regarding it, and a senator of the United States as well as several other officials have also knowledge of its existence and of the fact that it eventually is to be brought forward. The intention regarding it is to continue taking testimony before the Potter committee until the early part of October, and then spring the letter on the public as a grand surprise for the purpose of making Democratic votes at the elections in that month and ensuing ones in November

WEST INDIES.

Fall of Gonzales.

Havana Aug 25—The fall of President Gonzales of San Domingo is considered inevitable—Luperson to succeed At Hayti seven prominent persons had taken refuge in the British and French consulates The president's life is being threatened and a strong guard was maintained over his residence.

As to General Grant

[From the New York Herald]

The Herald does not propose to elect Gen Grant for a third term, but as a careful observer of events, it cannot help seeing that a considerable number of voters are even now ready to support him, and we may as well add that if the Democratic party is going over to Kearneyism, as in a good many western states it has already gone, Grant's chances for a nomination and election are very good This is a mere statement of fact If the Democratic party stood to-day on the solid ground of its old principles and policies Gen Grant would have no more chance to be elected president in 1880 than we have of a snow storm in the middle of August But when two-thirds of the Democratic leaders commit themselves to repudiation at the very moment when the country is just emerging from the long gloom of industrial distress caused by inflation, and the other third have not a word of sense to say to the people it does not require extraordinary discernment to see that the so called Democratic party is simply smoothing Gen Grant's way to the White House

"As Usual" at Fredericksburg

[Washington Cor Cincinnati Gazette]

The army relics of Gen Washington recently purchased by an act of congress from Major Lewis, of Virginia was a ledger or account book in which Washington used to place all items, no matter how trifling of his financial affairs He kept a full record of his losings and winnings at play. One peculiar fact in connection with his gambling as shown by this ledger is that he always lost at Fredericksburg Va The record of his continual losses at that city grew so monotonous that, in brackets in the last entry of losses at that place, he wrote the words "As usual"

Pleasure Seeking Hayes.

[From the Chicago Times]

Mr Hayes' ideas of the duties and responsibilities of the presidential station are akin to those of the darky who used to sing, "If I were president ob dese United States, I'd eat molasses candy and swing upon the gates" Propose a little free junket to Mr Hayes and he's off instanter If any one will take the pains to make the comparison he will probably find that during the eighteen months of Rutherford's reign he has traveled for pleasure further and devoured more free lunches than Grant in the eight years of his service as president

American Competition

[From the London Economist]

It will never be possible for America to become a serious competitor in the heavier manufactures till, by sweeping away her protective duties the cost of various articles necessary for successful production is reduced For example many articles used in the construction of a ship have to pay a heavy import duty It then becomes necessary to protect the home built vessel whose cost has been artificially enhanced, against the cheaper vessels of other nations This is effected by forbidding the transfer of foreign bottoms to the American flag, and by a vexatious system of navigation laws As a result the rate of freight between the United States and the rest of the world is far higher than would prevail with commerce unfettered, and even where manufactures are produced cheaply it is impossible to distribute them except at a ruinous cost Goods for South America and China are often shipped to their destination via England to lessen the cost of freight Whenever our enterprising cousins come to their senses in the matter of free trade while they will undoubtedly push us hard in some branches of industry, we shall find our compensation by having their market thrown open to many English manufactures which are practically excluded under the present tariff

The Charges against Gov Ferry

[From the Olympia Transcript]

Some of our most respectable citizens members of the last legislature and others, feeling that Mr Ferry's incumbency of the governorship is strewn with actions which fit him for the political guillotine, have petitioned for his removal While expressing no opinion concerning the truth or falsity of the charges of which we know little more than has appeared in the public prints we believe the good people of the territory will when occasion shall offer show at the polls their disapprobation of the man and his manner of treating the question He being a public servant it is his duty to the office he holds as well as to the Republican party whose chief he assumes to be, and which he is accredited with wishing to lead (to defeat) in the near approaching congressional campaign, to answer this charge fully and fairly No delay evasion or equivocation will avail before the people at the polls As to the charges limitation will not run nor will a demurrer be sustained A failure to answer will be taken as a confession of judgment, on which execution will be issued by the voters of the territory on the first Tuesday of November next

THE CURRENT TOWARD GRANT

GATH [illegible] RICE OF MASSACHUSETTS ON GRANT'S CANDIDACY

[Letter to the Cincinnati Enquirer]

I asked Gov Rice if the Grant movement had yet extended to Massachusetts He thought a little and said, "I suppose you want to print this" Then with a look of resignation he added "You know Gen Grant has not been the choice of the leaders of the Republican party in Massachusetts at least not of a good many of the prominent Republicans However, as a man who cannot help feeling the public emotions and opinions by contact with many sorts of people I will say to you that there is a very great sentiment for Gen Grant. It extends to Massachusetts. It seems to be general"

Stopping again cautiously as if he disliked to be drawn out and yet couldn't help it Gov Rice said slowly

"I believe Gen Grant will be our next president"

For a cautious business man and careful politician this opinion seemed to me to be an extreme one I asked the governor if he did not mean that Grant would be the next Republican candidate He said "No he meant the next president" Then without inquiry he said "He will get a large Southern vote,"

I asked very few questions, preferring to let this train or ebullition of thought go along slowly

"I went to the celebration of the Grand Army of the Republic at Worcester" said Gov Rice "Many generals were named and cheered At the mention of Grant's name there was a scene of such feeling and enthusiasm as I have seldom observed That exhibition was not exceptional that feeling grows"

The governor looked as if he might have said too much but I thought he would go on He did

"I don't believe that feeling for Grant arises from his personal popularity he never was very free with the populace It is not a manufactured sentiment as you expressed it that is nobody is working it up"

I said that there was a $10 000 transaction some years ago between Butler and the writer of that article and the latter might be writing the obligation out" The governor thought it very odd that men of Gen Grant's character were used in that way He continued

"The strong current toward Gen Grant is the result of things which have been recently happening in this country—signs of disorder insubordination and possible evil The recognition of his steady resolute able executive qualities and the belief, too, in his devotion to the republic and our institutions make him a man not to be feared yet depended upon The expression of desire for his return to the presidency is an idea not of novelty but of stability It comes from the soundest parts of society

I referred to the idea that Grant was governed by certain obnoxious people

[illegible] Gen Grant might regard his election as approval of all his former associations If there was any way for him to [illegible] now to see him recalled I am of the opinion however that [illegible] rope has been [illegible]

LORD BEACONSFIELD A VULGAR SCOLD

[From the Manchester Examiner July 31]

The malign influence which Lord Beaconsfield is exercising on all associated with him is responsible for an evil as dangerous in its effects upon society as even Imperialism, and more repugnant to the sober feeling and good taste of the English people To his acts and example we must trace the insincerity which is becoming the characteristic of his colleagues one after another To him and to him only we must attribute the coarseness which is being exhibited by ministers in their references to their opponents Charges of mendacity or of equally dishonest equivocation against members of the cabinet are now common incidents of parliamentary life and are met with cynical indifference or audacious evasion Rowdyism exceeding in vulgarity that of the worst period of the Restoration, is freely employed against men of illustrious names and honorable lives The foreign secretary likens his distinguished predecessor to one of the most despicable characters in English history and insinuates that, like Titus Oates he invents disclosures whenever he finds them necessary Lord Cranbrook says loudly enough to be heard by the lords around him that the Earl of Derby's statement is a "tremendous lie" Lord Beaconsfield, who has always acted on the rule that invective is the ornament of debate makes a ferocious onslaught upon Mr Gladstone for which we can find no parallel, except in the vulgar vituperation with which the same speaker assailed, in turn, Mr Austin Daniel O'Connell Sir Robert Peel and Mr Roebuck The "carefully prepared and painfully elaborated sentences," as Lord Granville called them are grotesque in the extreme—a silly accumulation of sonorous epithets with scarce an English word among them but for all that they express the malignant hatred and jealousy with which the premier regards his high minded and brilliant predecessor Mr Gladstone can afford to laugh at the stilted and confused description of himself as "sophisticated rhetorician, inebriated with the exuberance of his own verbosity, and gifted with an egotistical imagination that can at all times command an interminable and inconsistent series of arguments to malign his opponents and glorify himself" Such a clumsily-directed projectile flies far above the head which it was aimed at and cannot possibly serve even, the passing purpose of irritating the man it was intended to destroy. But though Lord Beaconsfield's laboriously constructed epigram failed of its object, though it so far from injuring Mr Gladstone, has made its author figure in the ridiculous posture of a vulgar scold the episode is too significant to be dismissed lightly It cannot be by a mere coincidence that ministers of the crown are found simultaneously borrowing their words from the vocabulary of the stews Lord Beaconsfield's extraordinary outburst, like the refined illustration of Lord Salisbury and the choice exclamation of Lord Cranbrook seem to indicate another change of policy on the part of her majesty's ministers They are goaded to desperation by the powerful assaults made upon their proceedings They have lost their heads as well as their tempers. They have tried the "confidence trick" they have juggled and are found out To further their plans they now have recourse to a policy of intimidation From bullying a state to bullying individuals is an easy transition The signal has been given and the floodgates of abuse are to be opened Lord Beaconsfield makes another appeal to the mob, and directs their ignorant passions against his great rival, in the vain hope that their clamor and assaults may frighten him and his followers into silence If that is not the explanation of the disgraceful exhibition of violence at Knightbridge what explanation can there be? It is impossible to assume that these tirades of offensive personalities in and out of the house of lords have no object or that their object is simply to annoy The only reasonable way of accounting for episodes so unprecedented so phenomenal in English political life is to suggest—though the suggestion imply that the ministry as well as the covenant are insane "—that it is now sought by the free employment of rowdy invective to intimidate and suppress all criticism of the government schemes

MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST 26, 1878.

THE PARTIES AND THE ISSUES IN 1880.

Last year throughout the great middle states the Republican platforms showed just about as much truckling to false financial theories, and about as much anxiety on the part of the managers to wheedle and conciliate the communists and inflationists, as the Democratic platforms did. But the scheme totally failed. The Republican effort to sail under a false and piratical flag resulted in crushing defeat. It seems to have been a useful lesson. This year a different course is taken. The first sign came from Wisconsin. The Republicans of that state, finding themselves called on to decide under which banner they should range themselves, boldly took their position under that of the "honest money league." Maine next fell into line. No equivocation is tolerated in the Republican platform of that state. In Ohio, warned by the lesson of last year, the platform is "toned up," and the party journals and speakers are talking in a manner which affords a striking contrast to the weak and pitiful utterances of last year's disgraceful canvass. Indiana Republicans have been infected heretofore with the common delusion, and have timidly refrained from meeting the issue fairly and fully; but Gen. Ben. Harrison recently pitched the key note of the campaign in an elaborate argument against all the financial fallacies of the time, and in favor of sound and honest money, and the just and complete fulfillment of all the national obligations. From Pennsylvania comes a voice equally significant. The Republican canvass in that state has been opened with a great speech by Hon. Galusha A. Grow, known twenty years ago as one of the foremost champions in the fight against the extension of slavery. To a crowded audience in the very heart of the greenback region he delivered a few days ago a splendid argument in favor of gold money and speedy resumption, denounced as absurd the attempt to tax national bonds, and declared against every scheme of inflation, and every plan to bring about good times by legislative legerdemain or paper money trickery. In the speeches of Harrison and Grow not a single issue is dodged. A stand is taken once for all on principles that are invincibly sound and must prevail at last, because they are based on all the teachings of financial science and all the results of human experience. Meantime the Democratic position seems to be no better than that of last year. The leaders are running half way to meet all sorts of crude political theories, pandering to every new fancy of the ignorant, and holding out delusive promises of all kinds to gain votes. When such a man as Thurman engages in this business there would seem to be little present hope for much good through his party. Unless the present signs are very misleading, the issues for 1880 are forming. The party which takes the side of sound finance is going to win.

H. W. S.

PAPER AND SPECIE.

It is decisively stated by the Standard that "there is no need of a coin reserve," because "the ability of the government to pay is what gives the greenback its value." This statement is put forth with an innocence which does not discover the glaring discrepancy between the two parts of it. It is admitted that the value of the greenback depends on the ability of government to pay, and yet it is argued that there is no necessity of keeping anything on hand to pay with. This is quite as lame and absurd as the "absolute money" folly. In fact it is the same idea. The Standard expresses surprise at the proposition that paper currency can be "sustained in its value only by being secured with a specie reserve." Yet every tyro should know that this is the first indispensable condition to a sound paper currency. When this condition does not exist there will be depreciated paper. How could any person, with greenbacks before his eyes for sixteen years have failed to see this fact? A paper currency to be of sound value must be convertible. The holder must know that he can always get specie for it. The greenback is due now, and was always due. But heretofore there has been nothing to redeem it with. In consequence it was worth for a dozen years from forty to ninety cents on the dollar, only. Now, there is a great and increasing accumulation of specie, inflation of prices is past, and it is demonstrated that government is approaching a condition of solvency; in other words, government is making manifest its ability to pay its promissory notes on presentation. In consequence those notes are about at par with gold. This is resumption. In England and France and other old countries which have been dealing with this subject for centuries, it has not yet occurred to the financiers that resumption, or convertibility of paper promises into actual money, can be sustained without keeping a reserve of actual money with which to support the credit of their notes and to redeem them when any one wants to make the exchange. Hence they all find it necessary to keep a great metallic reserve. The bank of France, for example, at the last report before us, held $227,000,000 of gold and $150,000,000 of silver, and the paper circulation of the bank was $491,000,000. This is the proportion of specie which the French financiers find necessary to support the paper currency of the country. Great Britain has a paper circulation about half that of France, and it is exchangeable always with gold, because all the world knows that the bank of England holds a a very heavy specie reserve. But it is unnecessary to pursue a fact so obvious. The notes of our national banks are redeemable in greenbacks, and the banks are required by law to keep a reserve of greenbacks to protect their depositors and redeem their bills. The average reserve kept by the national banks during the last eight years has been $221,000,000.

"ABSOLUTE MONEY."

Some very good specimens of "absolute money" are afloat. We have a thirty-dollar bill, No. 8,981,753,460,378,503,074,219,647, of series 42,137,973,529. In outward style the bill is gotten up to bear some resemblance to the greenback. The devices and mottoes upon it are conceived in excellent harmony with the leading ideas of the "fiat money" party. This bill is "a mortgage upon all the property of the United States;" it is "absolute money, redeemable nowhere, in nothing, and by nobody." It is "a full tender for all debts, public and private," and denounces "death to all who refuse to take this bill at par for all debts." A very appropriate portrait is that of a "labor reformer" in an enormous and flashy necktie and somewhat battered bell-crowned hat set well on one side, and a cigar in his mouth. A suitable vignette is a plain cemetery scene. On the back of the poor man's and labor reformer's money are apothegms like these: "Civilization demands paper currency representing no artificial value. This is just the thing—represents no value whatever." "The poor man's money. The more a man has the poorer he is, and the poorest people have the most of it." "Hard times were caused by contraction. No more taxes. Free whisky and tobacco." "The people want cheap money and plenty of it. This is cheap as dirt and plenty as the lice and locusts of Egypt." "Gold is a coward. This money is not afraid of anybody, never hides itself, and needs no safe to keep it." "Behold, the millennium is at hand! Ho, all ye that are born tired! Come and get your fill of greenbacks. Money for all—no questions asked." "This is 'honest money,' and will make everybody honest, as no one will counterfeit it, rob or kill for it—they can get it for less trouble." "No more contraction of the currency; no more interest to anybody; down with capital! Divide all property equally." We should think this bill would exactly and fully answer the ends of "fiat money." It is conceived and executed with admirable fidelity to the prevailing spirit of "financial reform."

The national government has finally obtained jurisdiction of the internal revenue cases in South Carolina, and custody of the imprisoned officials. The cases will now be tried in the circuit court of the United States, Chief Justice Waite sitting with Judge Bond. The court will convene early in September, and it is intended to make the decision in this case settle definitely and conclusively the vexed question of disputed jurisdiction between state and federal courts.

By a large majority the people of Luzerne county, Pa., have voted for division of the county. The new county will be called Lackawanna. Luzerne was the third county in the state in population, and contained nearly a quarter of a million of people.

To prove beyond a doubt that our mode of doing Business is the most successful one, we merely state that when we commenced here nine months ago, our credit was limited and we were obliged to start with a very in what was then considered an out of the way store for Clothing and Gents Furnishing Goods, but to-day what do we see? Not only alone has our locality become well known, but

Rents have nearly Doubled in our immediate vicinity, and customers find us from the REMOTEST PARTS Of the North Pacific Coast!

And to cap the climax, we stand to-day

THE MOST FAVORED HOUSE

doing a Clothing business

In the City of Portland!

In order to accommodate our increased business we were compelled to

to make standing room for our daily increasing visitors, and to give us elbow room to wait on all.

We have an unlimited credit in the marts of San Francisco; Manufacturers and Importers there are so eager to sell to us goods that we make our own terms. The reason for this is simply because We Buy Only for Cash!

We are enabled to do this because we only sell for cash. The reason we can sell for cash is because we sell everything at a moderate profit, and buying our goods at so much less than our competitors that it gives us a which our customers are not slow in taking advantage of.

We don't only alone turn our capital over and over again in selling rapidly, but we also are enabled to get

Fresh and Stylish Goods,

and in this way please our patrons by selling

Cheaper than any other House in the City, and the same time offer only the Freshest Goods & Latest Styles.

In addition to the above reasons for our unparalleled success, to those never having bought of us before, we would also state that we have always adhered to

One Price to All!

That alone has given us a splendid reputation.

We make no secret of our success, and in never swerving from the path of rectitude in dealing with the public we have incurred the hatred of all the Old Fogies in our line, and they advertise us to their own customers gratuitously, which also helps us materially.

Another reason why we gain on our would be competitors is, because nothing in our Establishment is palmed off for anything else than it is; we try to please in every way; our employes are gentlemen, and never get out of patience.

WHERE THERE IS SO MUCH SMOKE THERE MUST BE SOME CIGARS!

A Short Card with a Long Introduction!

I HAVE FOR A LONG TIME CONTEMPLATED a change in the style of my business, establishing in part, not only the 10 cent and 15 cent system, which is simply a just one to seller and buyer, but also introducing a costlier (to me) and better class of goods. I cannot do this, however, without a fixed determination on my part to sell for cash only. It is a rule which I must carry out in order to give my patrons the benefit resulting from such a course. Every business man will understand this, and if not upheld in it, it will become necessary for me to re-establish the old and very unsatisfactory mode, and sell a quality of goods which, while superior to that generally sold, will leave me a percentage to cover losses and delays inevitably resulting from a credit system.

Intending to carry out the most approved principles, and anticipating, as is necessary in dealing out high cost goods, a greatly increased patronage, I have laid in a supply of cigars of all grades and especially Imported Havanas, sufficiently large to meet the change.

To bring to this market a big assortment of Imported Cigars, the genuineness of which I am ready to guarantee, involves considerable risk and outlay of money. Goods of this class, in consequence of their sensibility to atmospheric changes, must be sold rapidly in order that invoices may be often renewed and the stock on hand be always fresh. My facilities for supplying this market are most perfect, and I need but to be seconded in my efforts by a public to whose liberality and long continued patronage I am indebted for my success in business. In the future I hope to keep my faith with them, as I am confident I have in the past. Though my purchases extend to several importing houses, I am the authorized agent of whose reputation as dispensers of Imported Cigars extends over this entire coast.

AND

As I propose to imitate no man but be always a leader, I shall, in spite of extremely small profits, make a specialty of imported cigars, selling them at 15 cents apiece and upwards.

I shall continually increase the assortment; deal them out of the original packages and treat all patrons alike, caring only to know that for every cigar that leaves the store, I have received the coin. I hope my friends and patrons will not ask me to violate a rule in which, all things considered, the odds are so much in their favor. To the trade and box customers rates will be made in accordance with amount purchased and terms agreed upon. My 10 cent cigars will also be of improved quality. New York cigars—Kerbs & Spies, Lichtensteins and Geo. P. Lies' manufactures will be sold 3 to 7 for 25 cents and Seed cigars still cheaper.

All the latest styles of Cigarettes, cigarette and plug tobaccos now in stock. ISAAC BLUM, Corner First and Alder sts.

CITY.

DEATH BY APOPLEXY.—While the steamer Welcome was on the way to this city from Kalama Saturday afternoon, one of the passengers, a young man named David Wark, was stricken down with apoplexy and died in a few minutes. Deceased was in the twenty-seventh year of his age. He had left Victoria for Portland on a pleasure trip, and from all appearances was in the most perfect health when the summons came. Mr. Wark was the son of the late John Wark, an old Scotch resident connected with the Hudson Bay company, the family occupying a high social position. The remains were conveyed to this city and given in charge of Capt. Cook, the coroner. The body was taken to the morgue, where it has been carefully packed in ice and prepared for shipment to Victoria. This morning the body will be forwarded to its destination. A dispatch was sent to the family immediately after the arrival of the Welcome here, apprising them of the very sad and sudden event.

IN MEMORIAM.—At the marble shop of Mr. T. G. Harkins, on Stark street, near the new Catholic church, can be seen a very handsome tombstone which is to mark the last resting place of the late Mrs. Jos. LeGrand. It is a finely polished marble slab about five feet high, on the front side of which the following inscription has been cut: "In memory of Sarah T. Easton, wife of Joseph LeGrand, died July 2, 1877, aged 38 years;" and above the inscription an anchor and Bible have been carved, the former resting on the latter. A hand can be seen through the anchor, pointing to the emblem of Hope. This handsome and fittingly inscribed stone will be placed over the spot which holds all that is mortal of the late Mrs. LeGrand [illegible] in a few days.

CYLINDER TIMBERS BROKEN.—Last Friday, while the steamer Spokane was lying at Wallula, she met with an accident which disabled one of the cylinders. The Spokane was moored alongside the steamer Almota while the latter was being loaded. The "fan-tail" of the Almota got caught under a part of the other boat, and as the freight kept sinking her deeper, the cylinder timbers on one side were broken, so that only one engine could be worked. Capt. Baughman managed to come down to Celilo, where the damage was [illegible], and the Spokane will start up the river again on Wednesday.

ALLEGED STABBING AFFRAY.—Yesterday afternoon a good deal of attention was attracted on Sixth street by two men who were running down the street at a rapid rate and a Chinaman in hot pursuit. Inquiry of the Chinaman elicited the allegation that the [illegible] had got into a row with another Chinaman, and that the latter had been stabbed by them. The police turned out to capture the men, one of whom was bare-headed, but the search did not result in their being found, nor did inquiry bring to light the origin of the row or the extent of the Chinaman's injuries.

BOAT MISSED.—On the night that young Sward was arrested, Mr. Doscher, who lives a short distance below the city, missed one of his boats. He had three boats moored on the bank, opposite his home, on Thursday evening. Friday morning, on going down, he found a white one missing. As the boats are not far from where young Sward was [illegible], it is more than likely that after getting away from Gwynne and Kogel, Johnson and Sward took the boat and crossed to the other side of the Willamette.

TAKEN TO THE HOSPITAL.—A man, giving the name as James Burton, was arrested Saturday for being drunk and taken to the city jail. During the day he had several fits, and at a time it was feared he would die. In the evening Dr. Watkins was called in and prescribed for the man. He was considerably improved yesterday morning, but was still very weak. An order was obtained admitting him to St. Vincent's hospital, and he was taken to that institution yesterday forenoon. Excessive drink is the cause of Burton's troubles.

PACIFIC COAST PATENTS.—The following patents have been issued to inventors of the Pacific coast: George E. Dow, San Francisco, Cal., steam engine; Horace F. Fletcher, San Francisco, Cal., [illegible]; Eugene Fellows, San Diego, Cal., pump; [illegible], Sacramento, Cal., wagon jacks; [illegible]; Frank M. Chapin and Joshua [illegible] Coffey's Cove, Cal., vehicle [illegible]. Trade Marks.—Jno. Pruess, Oakland, Cal., coffees and spices.

SERVICES ON SHIP-BOARD.—A large and attentive audience assembled on board the Belle of Oregon, yesterday, and participated in the services there conducted by Chaplain [illegible]. Not less than six ship-masters were present. A number of seamen [illegible] several of our leading citizens and quite a number of ladies lent interest to the efforts being made by the Portland Seamen's Friend society to take the gospel to every one who attend none of the regular church services of our city.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE.—Messrs. Creighton & Stearns, auctioneers, will sell at administrator's sale this (Monday) forenoon, at 10 o'clock, in front of the Court House, lots 3 and 4 in block 29, Caruthers' Addition to the city of Portland, being the north-west corner of Fifth and Grant streets, and the lot adjoining on Fifth street. This will be an excellent opportunity to purchase cheap desirable home property.

ANOTHER LECTURE.—Rev. Father Chiniquy will lecture this evening at a quarter to 8 in the Taylor street M. E. church. His subject, announced last evening, is—"Why the priests of Rome oppose our public schools, and how to prevent their overthrow, [illegible] Roman Catholic [illegible]."

IMPROVING.—We are gratified to be able to state that the condition of Mr. O'Shea has [illegible] improved within the last 24 hours. For a time his life was almost despaired of, but the symptoms are quite favorable now, and strong hopes are entertained that he will recover.

CALLED FOR.—The following messages remain uncalled for at the Western Union Telegraph Company's office: Carl Keifele, [illegible] Ingersoll, E. H. Hobson, [illegible] J. Nash, Joseph Schroder, Mrs. S. [illegible], John McManus, S. Hodsell.

A GOOD FIELD.—Capt. Barlow, Barlow [illegible], Clackamas, has just finished thrashing 166 acres of spring wheat, which yielded 30 bushels per acre. Ten acres [illegible] Norway oats yielded 70 bushels per acre.

CITY.

DEATH FROM APOPLEXY.—While the steamer Welcome was on the way to this city from Kalama Saturday afternoon one of the passengers, a young man named David Wark was stricken down with apoplexy and died in a few minutes Deceased was in the twenty seventh year of his age He had left Victoria for Portland on a pleasure trip and to all appearances was in the enjoyment of perfect health when the summons came Mr Wark was the son of the late John Wark an old Scotch resident of Victoria who was formerly connected with the Hudson Bay company the family occupying a high social position The remains were conveyed to this city and given in charge of Capt Cook the coroner The body was taken to the morgue where it has been carefully packed in ice and prepared for shipment to Victoria This morning the body will be forwarded to its destination. A dispatch was sent to the family immediately after the arrival of the Welcome here, apprising them of the very sad and sudden event.

IN MEMORIAM.—At the marble shop of Mr T G Harkins on Stark street, near the new cathedral can be seen a very handsome tombstone which is to mark the last resting place of the late Mrs LeGrand, beloved consort of Mr Jos LeGrand It is a finely polished marble slab about five feet high on the front side of which the following inscription has been cut In memory of Sarah F Eaton, wife of Joseph LeGrand, died July 2, 1877 aged 33 years, an angel has gone Above the inscription an anchor and Bible have been carved, the former resting on the latter A hand can be seen through the clouds above, pointing to the emblem of Hope. This handsome and fittingly inscribed stone will be placed over the spot where all that is mortal of the late Mrs LeGrand repose in a few days

CYLINDER TIMBERS BROKEN.—Last Friday while the steamer Spokane was lying at Wallula, she met with an accident which disabled one of the cylinders. The Spokane was moored alongside the steamer Almota while the latter was being loaded. The fan-tail' of the Spokane caught under a part of the other boat, and as the freight kept sinking her deeper, the cylinder timbers on one side were broken, so that only one engine could be worked. Capt. Baughman managed to come down to Celilo, where the damage will be repaired. The Spokane will start up the river again on Wednesday.

ALLEGED STABBING AFFRAY.—Yesterday afternoon a good deal of attention was attracted on Sixth street by two men who were running down the street at a rapid rate and a Chinaman in hot pursuit Inquiry of the Chinaman elicited the allegation that the white men had got into a row with another Chinaman, and that the latter had been stabbed by them. The police turned at once to capture the men, one of whom was bare headed, but the search did not result in their being found, nor did inquiry bring to light the origin of the row or the extent of the Chinaman's injuries.

BOAT MISSED.—On the night that young Sward was arrested, Mr. Doscher, who lives a short distance below the city, missed one of his boats. He had three boats moored on the bank, opposite his house, on Thursday evening. Friday morning, on going down he found a white one missing. As the boats were not far from where young Sward was captured and the other two men made their escape, it is more than likely that after getting away from Gwynne and Engel, Johnson and Brown took the boat and crossed to the other side of the Willamette.

TAKEN TO THE HOSPITAL.—A man, giving his name as James Burton, was arrested Saturday for being drunk and taken to the city jail. During the day he had several fits, and for a time it was feared he would die. In the evening Dr. Watkins was called in and prescribed for the man. He was considerably improved yesterday morning, but was still very weak. An order was obtained admitting Burton to St. Vincent's hospital, and he was taken to that institution yesterday forenoon. Excessive drink is the cause of Burton's illness.

PACIFIC COAST PATENTS.—The following patents have been issued to inventors of the Pacific coast: George E Dow, San Francisco, Cal., steam engines, Horace P. Fletcher, San Francisco, Cal , ball targets Eugene Hawkes, San Diego, Cal., pumps, James B Newland, Sacramento, Cal., wagon jacks, Ambrose Blatchly, Kernville, Cal , wire rope ways, Frank M. SERVICES ON SHIP-BOARD.—A large and attentive audience assembled on board the Belle of Oregon, yesterday, and participated in the open air services conducted by Chaplain Stubbs. Not less than six ship-masters were present. A number of seamen and longshoremen, besides several of our leading citizens and quite a number of ladies lent interest to the efforts being made by the Portland Seamen's Friend society to take the gospel to many who attend none of the regular church services of our city.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE.—Messrs Creighton & Stearns, auctioneers, will sell at administrator's sale this (Monday) forenoon, at 10 o'clock, in front of the Court House, lots 3 and 4 in block 29, Caruthers' Addition to the city of Portland, being the northwest corner of Fifth and Grant streets, and the lot adjoining on Fifth street This will be an excellent opportunity to purchase cheap fine homestead property.

ANOTHER LECTURE.—Rev Father Chiniquy will lecture this evening at a quarter to 8 in the Taylor-street M E church His subject as announced last evening, is— Why the church of Rome opposes our public schools, purposes their overthrow, and proposes to establish Romish schools on their ruins "

IMPROVING.—We are gratified to be able to state that the condition of Mr O'Shea has very materially improved within the last 36 hours. For a time his life was almost despaired of, but the symptoms are quite favorable, and strong hopes are entertained that he will recover.

UNCALLED FOR.—The following messages remain uncalled for at the Western Union Telegraph Company's office Carl Keifele, W Peacher, Capt N Ingersoll, E H. Hubbard, Wm J. Nash, Joseph Schoder Mrs S E Bixlon, Michael McManus, S Hadsell

CAPT EPH BAUGHMAN OF THE STEAMER SPOKANE GETS INTO AN ALTERCATION WITH PAT WHEATON A DECK HAND AND SHOOTS HIM

Dispatches were received at the O S N Co's office yesterday forenoon giving particulars of a fatal shooting affair which occurred Saturday evening on board the steamer Spokane at Celilo From the telegrams received the following particulars of this unfortunate affair have been gleaned

After the steamer Spokane came down from Wallula and was lying at Celilo one of the deck hands named Pat Wheaton went to the cabin boy and asked for some soap The boy told him that he must go to the steward if he wanted any soup For some reason Wheaton became greatly enraged and assaulted the lad beating him nearly to death Capt Eph Baughman who has command of the steamer hearing the noise came down hurriedly to see what the trouble was He ordered Wheaton to leave the boat and go ashore This Wheaton refused to do making at the same time a threat against the captain Baughman went away and procuring a gun returned Wheaton when he saw Baughman coming with the gun seized a capstan bar and started for him Having no alternative but to retreat or shoot Baughman discharged the weapon with fatal effect the charge killing Wheaton almost instantly

Immediately after the affray, Capt Baughman gave himself up to the authorities The remains of Wheaton were brought down to The Dalles where an inquest was held Saturday evening Capt Baughman was also taken to The Dalles at the same time After hearing all the testimony the jury returned a verdict to the effect that Wheaton came to his death from a gun shot at the hands of Baughman, and that he (Baughman) was guilty of manslaughter

It is the opinion of the citizens generally that the homicide was justifiable but a contrary opinion is entertained by the deck hands on board the Spokane and the longshoremen at Celilo and at The Dalles Great excitement exists among the last mentioned class and extreme bitterness is felt toward Baughman. So intense was the feeling, that had the jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide and had Baughman not surrendered himself to the authorities, serious trouble would have resulted At one time it was thought an attempt would be made to lynch Capt Baughman by the longshoremen but it was promptly frustrated by the action of the citizens who avowed their determination to protect him He is now lying in jail where he will remain until the excitement shall subside The affair is certainly a very unfortunate one, but if the particulars, as given are the true version it would seem that Baughman acted in self defense only and could scarcely have done otherwise

SUICIDE.

LOUIS BURFFIND A YOUNG GERMAN BECOMES DISHEARTENED AND DROWNS HIMSELF—BODY FOUND—INQUEST

Yesterday afternoon, about 4 30 o clock, Coroner Cooke was notified that the body of a man was found in the Willamette river at a point about 2½ miles below the city, opposite the Giles place Summoning a jury, Coroner Cooke proceeded to the place Finding he could not conclude the inquest there, he had the body removed to the morgue, where the same was finished. The body proved to be that of a young German named Louis Burfeind. It was evidently a case of deliberate suicide caused by despondency The principal witness was

HENRY ROTHFOS,

Proprietor of the New York hotel, who testified substantially as follows I know deceased, Louis Burfeind, to be a good quiet man, and willing to work when he can get it , he told me that he was sickly and did not feel very well , this was last Monday I went to the Bank of British Columbia with him to get $30, to identify him and go security as near as I can think I saw him on Wednesday morning last don t know how long he has been in this country I believe he has been working at longshore work he was a German by birth

THE REASON ASSIGNED

In his valise, which he had left at the New York Hotel, was found the following letter, which explains the cause of the rash act

I am tired of living I am at times sickly and weak but always able to work but since I am in Oregon I am dissatisfied I lost all my hopes and got discouraged. I intend to take my life. In my satchel where my keys are there is ($15) fifteen dollars. If you can, send my valuable goods to my uncle Wilhelm Marten, Whatcom, Whatcom county, W T The other satchel is not locked. When I am gone do not look for me
LOUIS BURFEIND

An examination of the body was made by Dr W H Saylor, after which the jury rendered the following

VERDICT

We the undersigned do find that Louis Burfeind came to his death by his own hand by drowning in the river on or about Wednesday Aug 21 1878

NOT THE MEN

THREE PERSONS ARRESTED AT VANCOUVER YESTERDAY BUT THEY PROVE TO BE THE WRONG PERSONS—JOHNSON AND BROWN STILL AT LIBERTY

During Saturday and yesterday a number of rumors were in circulation concerning the whereabouts of the robbers and murderers Johnson and Brown One report would locate them in a certain place and another some where else Parties were coming to the police court every little while bringing all sorts of conflicting reports Nothing definite or satisfactory could be gathered from the rumors, and the necessary conclusion was that it was a case of all smoke and no fire

The most satisfactory reports came from Vancouver At an early hour Saturday morning two men crossed the Columbia on the ferry and came into Vancouver They answered the description of Johnson and Brown Soon after coming into Vancouver they entered a hotel and ate a hearty meal The men were very silent and did not have a word to say to any one They were closely watched and when they finished their meal were followed by several armed citizens The men went down the river some distance and procuring a boat crossed the Columbia Pursuit was given and the men were captured about twenty miles below Vancouver Another man who happened to be with the men was also captured The three prisoners were brought back to Vancouver and last evening the following dispatch was received

VANCOUVER W T Aug [illegible] P M

Two men answering the description of the O'Shea robbers passed north from here yesterday were followed by a party of four citizens and captured this morning on Lewis river They are now in jail here awaiting identification A third man in their company was also brought in No plunder captured

In obedience to the summons Chief Besser and Capt Kelly started on horseback to Vancouver about 8 o clock last evening They rode over in about 40 minutes The men were in bed but were aroused when the officers arrived there They were closely examined by Besser and Kelly but did not prove to be Johnson and Brown The names of the parties arrested are (so they allege) Grant, Boyles and Dillman As nothing can be proved against them they will be set at liberty this morning

BURGLARY ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION

Some time during Friday night the house of J M [illegible] Smith [illegible] a highly esteemed citizen of Carlton located on the west [illegible] was entered by two burglars and an attempt made to assassinate him During the warm weather Mr Smith was in the habit of leaving his window open in order to get the fresh air Friday night it was oppressively warm he also left the door of the [illegible] About midnight Mr Smith was awakened from a sound sleep by [illegible] in his room Naturally enough [illegible] his [illegible] which was a sixth [illegible] to the bed, [illegible] at [illegible] he discovered [illegible] Before [illegible] an alarm one of the burglars even [illegible] at the same instant striking, sprang upon [illegible] at him with a [illegible] Smith threw up his arm extent his danger [illegible] and then grappled and warded off the b[illegible] in deadly earnest with [illegible] desperate struggle followed [illegible] severely [illegible] punished his antagonist very [illegible] receiving in [illegible] his blows thick and fast the robber return several severe [illegible] from [illegible] and the The fight was of very short duration [illegible] and robber finding his pal had deserted him [illegible] left him to fight it out then broke away from Smith and springing through the [illegible] open window, effected his escape Smith's injuries are severe but not considered dangerous The men evidently intended to burglarize the premises but on being discovered did not hesitate to attempt murder to successfully accomplish their purpose

A PLAIN ISSUE.
A Card to the Public

From October 1876 fourteen days before the close of the Centennial exhibition—when all the [illegible] for investigation was at hand to this day Weber has published the following figures of the judges [illegible] given to him then and there

ORIGINAL FIGURES

	WEBER
	B[illegible]n	Knab	Oli	S J [illegible]
Tone	6	6	6	6
Equality	6	6	6	5
Quality	[illegible]	6	6	6
Touch	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
	24	24	24	23—95

Total—95 Out of a possible 96

Now, Messrs Steinway publish fourteen months after the close of the Centennial a different set of figures on grand Piano etc They admit publicly that while all the rest of the piano manufacturers have quietly attended to their business they have traveled thousands of miles made two ocean voyages and carried on an immense correspondence, covering thirteen months persuading confusing, manipulating the judges, with a slightly different result.

If Messrs Steinway or their agent here will prove that the above are not the correct original figures as handed in by the judges before the close of the Exhibition, we will give to the poor of Portland our check for $500. Also if Messrs. Steinway or their agents at Salem, Albany The Dalles or Walla Walla will prove that their original figures were not 91 out of a possible 96 which is four less than Weber received we will give to the poor of each of the above cities our check for $500

The fact of the matter is the Weber piano has become by far, too popular to suit the interest of that competing firm and they now perceive that their former prestige is fading fast before the growing popularity of Mr Weber, and every possible means is being resorted to in order to crush him

Finally we would add that while it is unsafe to trust an unscrupulous concern like that of Messrs Steinway whose questionable practices and manipulations at exhibitions have become notorious and whom we believe are capable of doing anything, except sticking to the truth yet we still have so much faith in the power of truth that we are loth to believe that even they would perjure themselves and dare to come forward and swear that Weber's figures, 95 as published throughout the world since the close of the exhibition are wrong

Does any sane man or woman believe it possible that Messrs Steinway would wait thirteen months after the close of the Centennial to correct Weber's statement of figures, when it could have been done while the commission itself was in Philadelphia in session in thirteen hours, or surely in thirteen days NEVER

Weber's Award signed by all the Judges reads as follows

[illegible] greatest power as shown in their Grand, Square and Upright [illegible] solidity in construction a pliant and easy touch, which [illegible] workmanship

The above Diploma signed by every member of the Commission and Judges on Pianos can be seen at Weber's warerooms corner Fifth Avenue and 16th street New York at any time

Notwithstanding the desperate effort which is being made to injure the reputation of the only rival they are afraid of the Weber Piano will still continue to be the favorite with the public in the concert room and the parlor

THE HILLSBORO HERMIT

[illegible] Aug [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Henry W[illegible] the Hillsboro hermit is dead, [illegible] many months he [illegible] gradually sinking into great feebleness [illegible] the [illegible] last some of his neighbors nearly a mile away fearing for his safety [illegible] and within the decaying remains the food of disgusting worms For years he has been going more and more to [illegible] mental derangement that [illegible] is a man in civilized society [illegible] his object [illegible] Every body knows or ought to know that a sane or sound mind is a mind governed by common sense that [illegible] sees the nature [illegible] of things and controls its own actions accordingly Now the sense [illegible] taking care of self Every one knows or ought to know that an insane mind is a mind just the opposite—a mind governed by motives outside of and inconsistent with the nature and relation of things—that is governed by views of things which are unreal imaginary and non existent Every man that knew Henry Davis knew that for years in the matter of caring for himself he had [illegible] possessed just such a mind Only fourteen months since [illegible] citizen of the county from motives of humanity brought him before the judge of the county court under the law provided for appointing guardians for just such men

Under a shuffle apparently to avoid responsibility he was tried under another law made and provided for sending dangerous maniacs into confinement behind bars and gates and, because his insanity was not of that grade, he was let off to continue his own insane neglect, even to his self destruction, and to the shame and disgrace of Washington county Who of our citizens is satisfied that a half demented old man of 73 years a man of broken body needing skillful help a man paying tax on thousands that his interests and life may be protected should be left without attendance to wander and tumble about sometimes off his horse and sometimes into the dangerous stream near his cabin should be left by day and by night without being seen for weeks until at last he is dead for want of care, and rotten to such an extent that ropes were hitched to his heels to draw him from his den while the jurors were falling back under declaration that they would pay fines rather than endure to be nearer, and his old faithful horse tied up and starving for a week awaiting his dead master!

Had there been no evil arising from the long past condition of this neglected man, except that of training away civilization from society, even then the evil would have been too great and too criminal for toleration Why was he at last buried with the "burial of an ass?" Why but a rough box and no funeral? Why were not some of his thousands (that have no better destination, perhaps, than to some distant unworthy relative and perhaps to gambling) expended in the virtuous work of a metallic coffin and a civilized and christian burial? Why? The reason is too plain The authorities had so long given the old and pitiful insane man to the hoodlum cry that he was a "hog" that at last they themselves were ashamed to change their treatment towards him sufficiently to give him the burial of a man. Why is our taxation if not for protection against evil? And what evil greater than insanity? And who is not liable to some form of it? And who is safe to live in a community that will not care for and protect its insane?

Nor let any civilized society do itself the injury of assuming that any sane man (that is, a man perceiving the nature and relation of things, and governing himself accordingly) will knowingly and willingly exclude himself from the sympathy and co operation of the healthy public sentiment that forbids a man to walk the public streets and to call on families of women and children, when alive with vermin and but half clad with rags no even to the covering of his nakedness and giving off from his filthy condition such an offensive odor as to utterly forbid his presence at sitting room or table.

Nor let the authorities be wheedled from their duty to both insane and society by the plea that such an evil arises from a justifiable eccentricity Nay verily Rather, let the authorities of every county of the state take warning, that the tragedy of the death and burial of Henry Davis calling so loudly for indignation, shall be the last of its kind

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Recurrent Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases Catarrh Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES

to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual This accounts in part fo this great professional success

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR PAUL M BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door

New System of Wagon Brakes.

TRULLINGER PATENT BRAKE.

NO SHOES TO WEAR OUT TIRES!

No Brake Bar used Will hold a Wagon any where from Backing or going Forward.

THIS NEW BRAKE NOW BEING INTRODUCED by the inventor J C Trullinger is a combination of friction gear applied to the hub of a wagon It is simple and light yet has more strength and durability than any other wagon brake [illegible] It is so attached [illegible] the wagon [illegible] out of the way of the gearing yet always reliable and at hand when required Any teamster or mechanic can see at once its utility and effective force to hold a load on a down grade or to prevent horse backing when required The Brake is made entirely of iron no wooden part being necessary as no brake bar is used hence it does not carry mud and is not affected by wet and muddy or icy roads.

We invite critical examination as we believe its merits can be demonstrated to any party who uses or understands a wagon brake

BEAUTY:

OR THE

Secret of a Fair Face.

An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred subjected to the whims of an American climate possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty —a pure and clear complexion What nature has thus denied art must be called upon to furnish It can be done, it is done daily Prof W E Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty and called

MAGNOLIA BALM

The MAGNOLIA BALM is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion. It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising and effective manner It removes all roughness, eruptions, redness, blotches freckles and tan with magical power It drives away all evidence of fatigue and excitement. It makes the plainest face beautiful. It gives the complexion a dazzling purity [illegible] makes the neck [illegible] rotund and plump. It makes a matron of [illegible] look not more than 20 years old and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.

The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every drawback to beauty and, while it is as harmless as water, it is so lifelike in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty of it by using HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, and we know of no other way It is the cheapest preparation in the world all things considered, and may be had at any drug store
